JANUARY 1972

Looking Around

JANUARY - start of the year, time for resolutions, turning over new leaves, and the best of intentions. It will be the time for yet another well-loved village family to leave us and start a new life in the Derby area. Norman and Ann Davies, with Jane and Claire, have become well-established in our affection in the few years they have been here, joining fully in the life of the village and the Church. Ann has been a gently, understanding and much-loved teacher at the school, and the children are very sad to lose her. Norman has kept us amused with his "subtle wit" and amazed at his ability to injure himself, be it at football, cricket or (believe it or not) bullfighting! Always kind, helpful and friendly, we will miss them very much. We hope they will be happy in their new life, but that they will come back and see us often.

But if dear friends go, others come, and we were very pleased to welcome John Summers, the newcomer to Chesterton House, in Church on the Sunday before Christmas. I think he already feels at home here because he wished he had not arranged to go away for the festive season. Let's hope his first good impressions remain!

Of course, John Summers' first Sunday was that of the Christmas Carol and Mime Service, and it always gives a good atmosphere to have a church so full that people have to stand - because that was what happened, and I would like to say a special thank you to all the members of the young cast who did so very well that night. They had me very worried at rehearsal, but they really rose to the occasion. The costumes were a feast for the eye once again, and Marilyn Butler and her team deserve high credit for this. Jim Golightly worked very hard against repeated frustrations to organise the musical side, and during the actual service he was darting from Festival Choir to School Choir to Organ Loft for his solo. Not only musical ability but agility is required! The backstage jobs were handled with quiet efficiency as usual, and I am most grateful to the electricians and stage managers who gave up so much time at such a hectic season of the year to get everything fixed up. Sometimes it seems an awful lot of effort for one short hour, but when so many people come to see it, I hope it is justified.

Happy New Year !

Rosalind Jones

Parish Paragraphs

FROM THE VICAR

Good news this month - the appeal for the Restoration of the South Aisle roof has now reached its target and we can face our builder and architect with smiles. In fact we have gone over the amount needed, but we can readily find a use for the surplus. It's only six months since the work was put in hand and at that time we still needed nearly £1000 to meet the estimated cost. I did remark at the PCC that I hoped the necessary money would be forthcoming by the time the work was completed and I have to admit now that I had my doubts. However those who know better about these things than I do assured me that I had no need of worry, the money would be there when the bill came in. And how right they were. Since the beginning of 1971 we have raised over £1000 for this stage of the restoration. It has come in many ways; notably a very successful fete and fair, church collections, the appeal to the village, interest from wise investment and help from outside sources; in particular the Diocese of Ely, John Warren Foundation, the Incorporated Church Building Society and the Morris Fund. I would like to offer my heartfelt thanks to the many friends and well wishers who have made this possible. Swaffham Bulbeck has done it again.

Those of you who came to Church on December 19th will have tasted the first fruits of this generosity. In the morning we used the South Aisle for the Parish Communion, which made it a very intimate service, whilst in the evening every seat was taken plus a few more which were brought in and still some had to stand for the whole service. So we do need to use all our Church, probably more often than some would imagine.

We have not yet decided what to do with the balance of the fund, but I hope that it may be possible for us to have the nave lime-washed. It must be all of 30 years at least since it was last done (at the time of the organ fire I believe) so you can see that it is necessary. Failing this the next stage of repairs are the nave windows, which let in far too much cold. We shall have to see.

One last note - can I draw your attention to our Plough Service on Sunday January 9th at 6.30. I know that this has been held in previous years; but not recently. It should be an opportunity for all those engaged in the farming industry to ask for God's blessing on the year's work ahead. In an age of cynicism and unbelief we do well to be reminded of fundamentals. A Happy New Year to you all.

The Vicarage family would like to thank all those who kindly sent them Christmas Greetings.

Advance Notice

The four parishes will be having combined Lent services on Wednesdays at 8.00 p.m. The course will be taken by Canon George Youell of Ely.

Electoral Roll

The present roll ceased at the end of last year, and a new one has to be made for 1972. This process will take place every sixth year in future. The Church Information Office has issued an explanatory leaflet in which it states 'only those who apply to have their names entered will be on the new roll. No names will be carried over from the previous one. In this way every six years 'dead wood' is removed, and only those who are sufficiently concerned to re-apply will continue'. As before, a person who wishes to be enrolled must be baptised, at least 17 years old and either resident in the parish or a habitual worshipper in it for at least six months. Habitual worship for this purpose does not imply very frequent attendance.

Church Restoration Fund

We gratefully acknowledge the following additions to the fund:

1 of £5    2 of £2    3 of £1    1 of 50p.

The Ely Diocesan Board of Finance    £144.

Christmas Fair

Once again our village rose to the occasion when the Fair was held on December 4th. A great deal of hard work was done by many willing helpers and the result was a profit of £100.30 for the Restoration Fund. We are grateful to you all for your generosity.

drugs, drink and the loneliness and despair which lead so many to crime ?

WE ARE CONCERNED with those unfortunates - men, women and young people - who, often out of loneliness, despair, or their own inadequacy, have turned to delinquency, drinking, drug-taking or gambling. Some only need friendship to prevent them 'going over the edge'; others have been in prison or are on probation and for them guidance is essential.

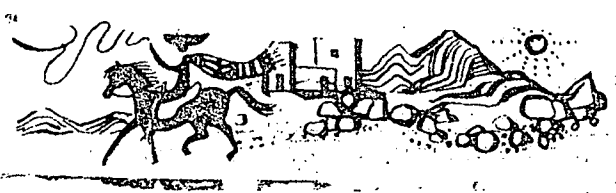

BUT MOST OF ALL we are concerned with the many young people who have not had the benefit of a normal happy home life. They need help; without it they could well join the ranks of the adult unfortunates.

WE ESTIMATE that there are now 10,000 young people throughout the country who are at risk until provision is made for the type of accommodation which will give them stability on which to build their future.

WE WOULD LIKE to create more of our COMMUNITY HOMES for these young people ... WITH YOUR HELP WE CAN...

CHAPTERS IN MY LIFE Vicar of Swaffham Bulbeck 1828-54

"And as time went on things improved greatly, both in the church and in the parish generally. There had always been a fair congregation, but it was much increased latterly. There was no regular meeting house in the parish. There were some Dissenters, of course; it could hardly be otherwise expected in a population of between seven and eight hundred. But there were not very many, and some of them were among the steadiest and best-behaved of my parishioners. They sent their children to both work-day and Sunday school; and occasionally appeared at my church, where - once or twice - I even saw the Dissenting minister himself, who at times held forth in one of the cottages to the few that came to listen to him.

There were scarcely any bad characters in the place, though reformation of manners was much needed in the case of some of the men - young men chiefly. There were only three public houses in the village when I first came to it, and I left the same three when I came away without any addition to the number. This was after an incumbency of thirty years. It had been attempted to set up others, but I resisted; and the farmers, who were guided by my example, withheld their consent also. In the parish nearest to my own - (where however there was certainly a larger population) - the number of public houses was twenty or more. I consider the circumstance just mentioned as showing the moral influence a clergyman may acquire over his parishioners if he reside among them a sufficient term of years. It is seldom that any lasting good can be effected in a parish by those who from some cause of dissatisfaction or other, seek to change their living or curacy as the case may be - perhaps not only once, but twice or oftener.

I must say I had no fault to find with my parishioners in any way. They were as a rule civil and attentive to all I said and did, or tried to do, for their moral and religious improvement. For the most part they fell in with such arrangements about things I had to propose, and were generally ready to adopt my suggestions in respect of what I wanted new or different from what had been before. I never made, or had, that I am aware, a single enemy in the place. The parish bore a good character from outsiders for peace and unanimity among its inhabitants.

There were great lamentations at my going, rendered necessary by my first wife's bad health. And I may mention, in proof of the regard my parishioners had for me, their presentation of fortynine handsomely bound volumes of divinity - leaving it to me to choose the particular books - when I came away.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE NEWS

In October, Mr. Balzar from New South Wales, Australia, kindly brought along slides of mainland Australia, also some of the island of Tasmania. Some of the slides were taken at the bi-centenary celebrations of Cook's epic voyage. These were held in 1970 and Queen Elizabeth attended.

The firework display set against a night sky was really beautiful and quite exciting. The whole sky seemed to be strewn with exotic flowers. Long ribbons of coloured light criss-crossing Sydney Harbour bridge we discovered, were the lights of many cars trying to cross. The Royal Yacht Britannia dressed over all with lights twinkling was just one more reminder of our close links with this far away land. Our friends the Barrats spring immediately to mind.

The November cookery demonstration was a great success. Members recorded many useful tips to help them prepare quick sweets. Members enjoyed their Christmas shopping trip to Norwich. As usual a great success.

A Whist Drive was held in aid of the Over Sixties Club funds. This was well attended. £13 was handed over to the club Treasurer (Mrs Wright). The W.I. Committee would like to wish everyone a

NINE MONTHS IN AUSTRALASIA - an account by H.J. Lowe

On February 9th last year my wife and I boarded the Italian ship 'Fairstar' at Southampton. We were well cared for on the voyage to Sydney, stopping on the way at Tenerife (Canary Islands), Cape Town, Fremantle and Melbourne. When at Fremantle we were pleased to go and see Yvonne Sheriffs, the grand-daughter of Mrs Bareford of Commercial End, with her husband and young son. After four weeks and five days we arrived at Sydney, having the great joy of seeing our only son John again, after eight years. He was there to meet us with his wife and their nine year old daughter Vanessa. John took us 130 miles in his mini-bus over the Blue Mountains to the city of Bathurst, where we stayed with his in-laws for three weeks. Then he took us 2,246 miles to the tropical city of Darwin, capital of the Northern Territory. Some 200 miles of this was very rough and twice we got bogged down between 1 and 2 a.m. Also there were several lots of water to go through. We had food and drink going along - 'Meals on Wheels' as John said. It took us 2½ days of continuous travelling night and day, with only essential stops.

There are only two seasons in Darwin, the wet and the dry. We arrived at the end of the wet season and for two weeks there were some heavy storms. For the other 20 weeks we were there however, we had cloudless skies most of the time. It is always rather hot and all the buildings have fans or air-conditioning. At the end of our stay the temperature had reached 92 degrees by day at 75 at night.

Our caravan was near John's house, not far from a dual carriageway and on two days I counted 500 vehicles passing in 11 minutes during the rush hour. About half a mile along the road was an Aborigine settlement which we were permitted to visit once. There are quite a number of Aborigines mixed with other people in the cities. We met many of John's friends while staying here.

After a wonderful time in Darwin we left by bus for Sydney. On the way we stoppped at Mt. Isa for about 40 minutes for breakfast, and in that time our niece, Alice Bendall and her two children, who live there were able to visit us. We had other stops, including one at Brisbane. We took a train from Sydney to Bathurst and stayed there for 18 days. While there we saw in a local newspaper something about a man named John Bulbeck very prominent in one section of the news.

The journey from Darwin to Bathurst was 3000 miles, and took  $3\frac{1}{2}$  days. From Bathurst we returned to Sydney and flew from there to Wellington, New Zealand, a distance of 1385 miles. We were met at the airport by our cousin and his wife, who drove us 200 miles to their home in New Plymouth. After an enjoyable stay there, they took us a further 200 miles to Auckland, staying overnight on the way at Cambridge. In Auckland we were pleased to meet Mrs Golden (some elderly people would remember her as Edie Ashman when she lived in Swaffham Prior). With her was her daughter, Mrs Mitchell, her grand-daughter, and two great-grandchildren.

After 16 days in New Zealand we boarded the Fairstar again at Auckland. On the voyage back to England we went ashore at Tahiti, Balboa (Panama Canal) and Lisbon (Portugal). Between New Zealand and Tahiti we crossed the international date-line and so had two Fridays in one week. On November 12th we arrived at Southampton where our daughter Hope and her husband met us and brought us back to Swaffham Bulbeck.

We thank God for being able to go to see our son in Australia for the second time.

PRE-SCHOOL PLAYGROUP

The children have now finished the Christmas term and have managed to make quite a few little things to take home for Christmas.

The Christmas Party was held in the Church Hall on Saturday the 18th December. Most of the children and their friends enjoyed the Puppet Show provided by the Youth Theatre Puppets from Cambridge. They all sat down to a nice tea and afterwards were visited by Father Christmas.

The term ended on Wednesday morning, with Father Christmas making a surprise visit to the children with their gifts.

We were sorry to hear of Tony Woolley's (our Treasurer) accident, and are pleased to say he is now out of hospital and making good progress at home.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

43 High Street.

Dear Editor,

We were most encouraged to read the Vicar's observations regarding the need for personal evangelism as recorded in the December iss. of the Beacon.

This direct challenge to all who have given their allegiance and acceptance of the Christian belief, and the teachings of Jesus Christ is, one feels, very timely, and most necessary.

No one could deny that these present days are fraught with danger and difficulties for all who believe, as these age long, cherished beliefs are being strongly attacked, and even the authenticity of Holy Scripture is under challenge in this God-forgotten era. Surely Christians of all persuasions can no longer stand on the touch-line, but should really advance into the arena of personal evangelism, as outline by the Vicar, and in doing so fulfill their vows and obligations.

Yours sincerely, Herbert Carter.

Dear Mrs Jones,

On behalf of myself, wife and family I would like through the medium of the Beacon, to thank everyone for all the many kind offers of help with the children, and for the letters, cards and get-well gifts and kind enquiries regarding my welfare after my unfortunate accident.

The kindness and interest has been greatly appreciated and so overwhelming that it is necessary to thank you all in this way.

I would like to send a special thanks to Mrs Preston, Mrs M. Roberts and Mrs Swygart for all their help given to my wife during this time. Thank you all again.

Dear Madam,

May I, through the Beacon, express my thanks to all who contributed so generously towards the cheque which was handed to me at the end of term.

In the rush of Christmas I have not had an opportunity to use my gift but I am looking forward to buying some books which will always remind me of the many happy hours spent as a teacher at Swaffham Bulbeck School.

Yours sincerely,
